WHO WE ARE

CONTENT STRUCTURE

BEST PRACTICE STRUCTURE

Exhibit the problem

Why they need to solve the problem?

How you can help?

Why now?

1. What is the Problem?

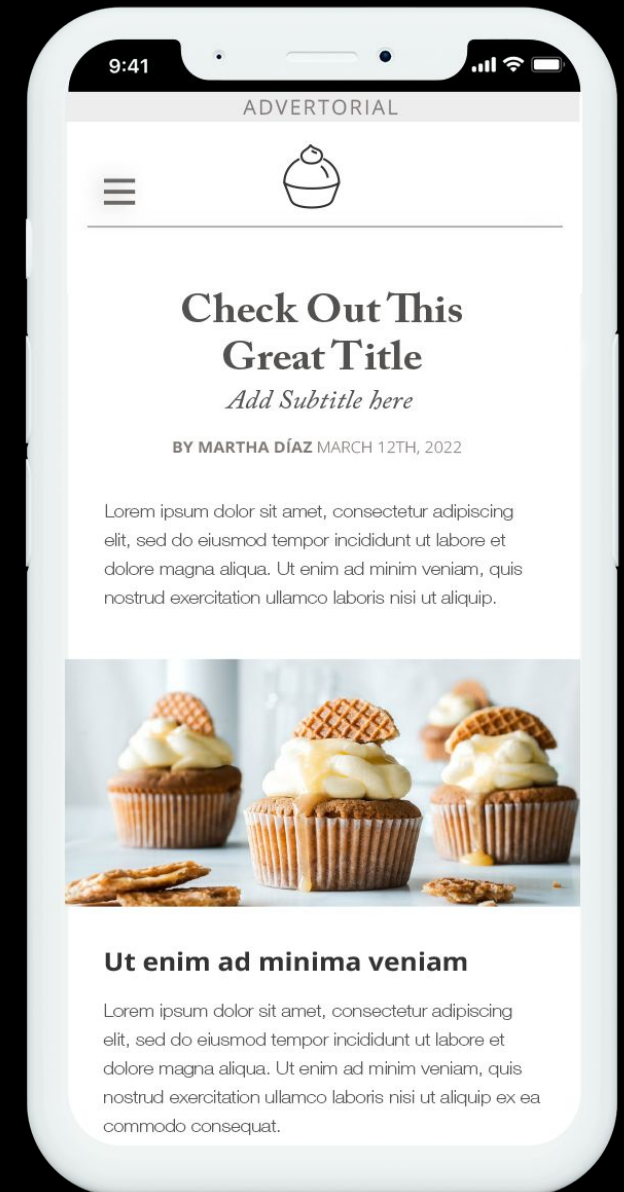

Start by speaking about the problem your product is solving. The reader needs to understand the problem first, not the product.

2. Why Should this Problem be Solved?

In 1-2 sentences, educate your target audience on the importance of solving their problem. Speak about how their lives will improve if they fix the issue.

Mention the pros and cons of eliminating the problem, and rule out the cons the reader might have.

Make the solution to the problem simple. The reader should clearly understand that taking action to solve the problem will be easy, especially regarding time, effort, and cost.

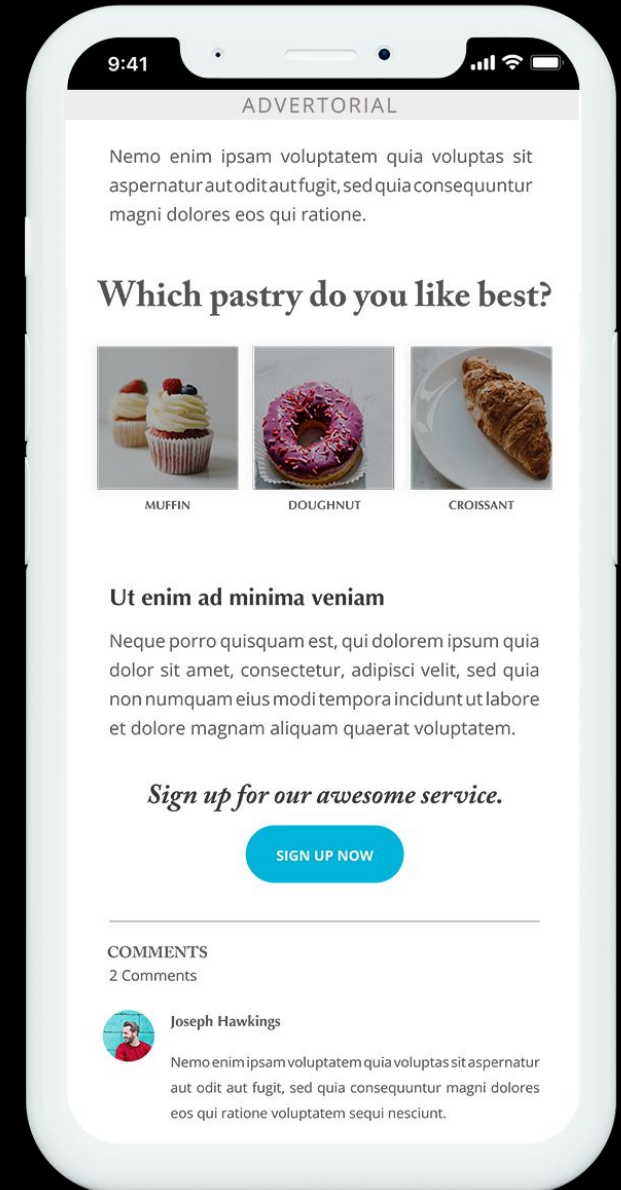

3. How Can Your Product Help?

Explain the solution to the problem, not the product. Put emphasis on the unique selling points your product offers. Show your expertise in a simple, concise manner.

4. Why Should They Take Action Now?

Define why it's important for the user to take action immediately. Use techniques such as urgency or FOMO, user testimonials or reviews, comparisons to competitors, and other points.

PAGE DESIGN

BEST PRACTICES

Keep it short

Humanize it

Top it with a strong visual

Make it readable

When was the article published.

TOP IT OFF WITH A VISUAL

Visuals of users, thought though leaders or contextual.

MAKE IT READABLE

Bolded sub-headers, relatively big fonts, and short paragraphs will also ensure the reader stays on the page.

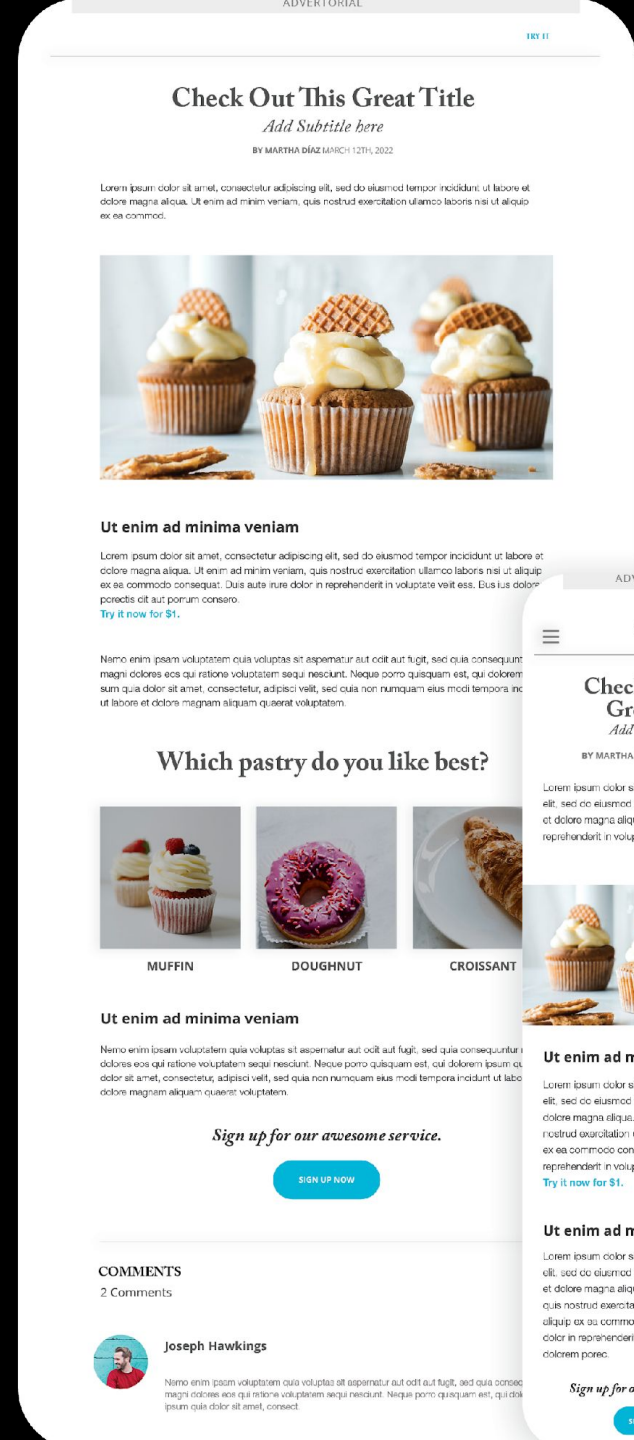

CTAs

Integrate 3 types of CTAs

1. CTA buttons (at the top right corner and at the bottom of the page)
2. Hyperlinks- less aggressive within body
3. Test Gamified CTA

LINK CAREFULLY

Avoid places where reader can click out: navigation bar, social sharing, testimonials, home page.

SECTION HEADERS

Headers should summarize your article when scanned so the reader understands whether or not it's valuable for him or her.

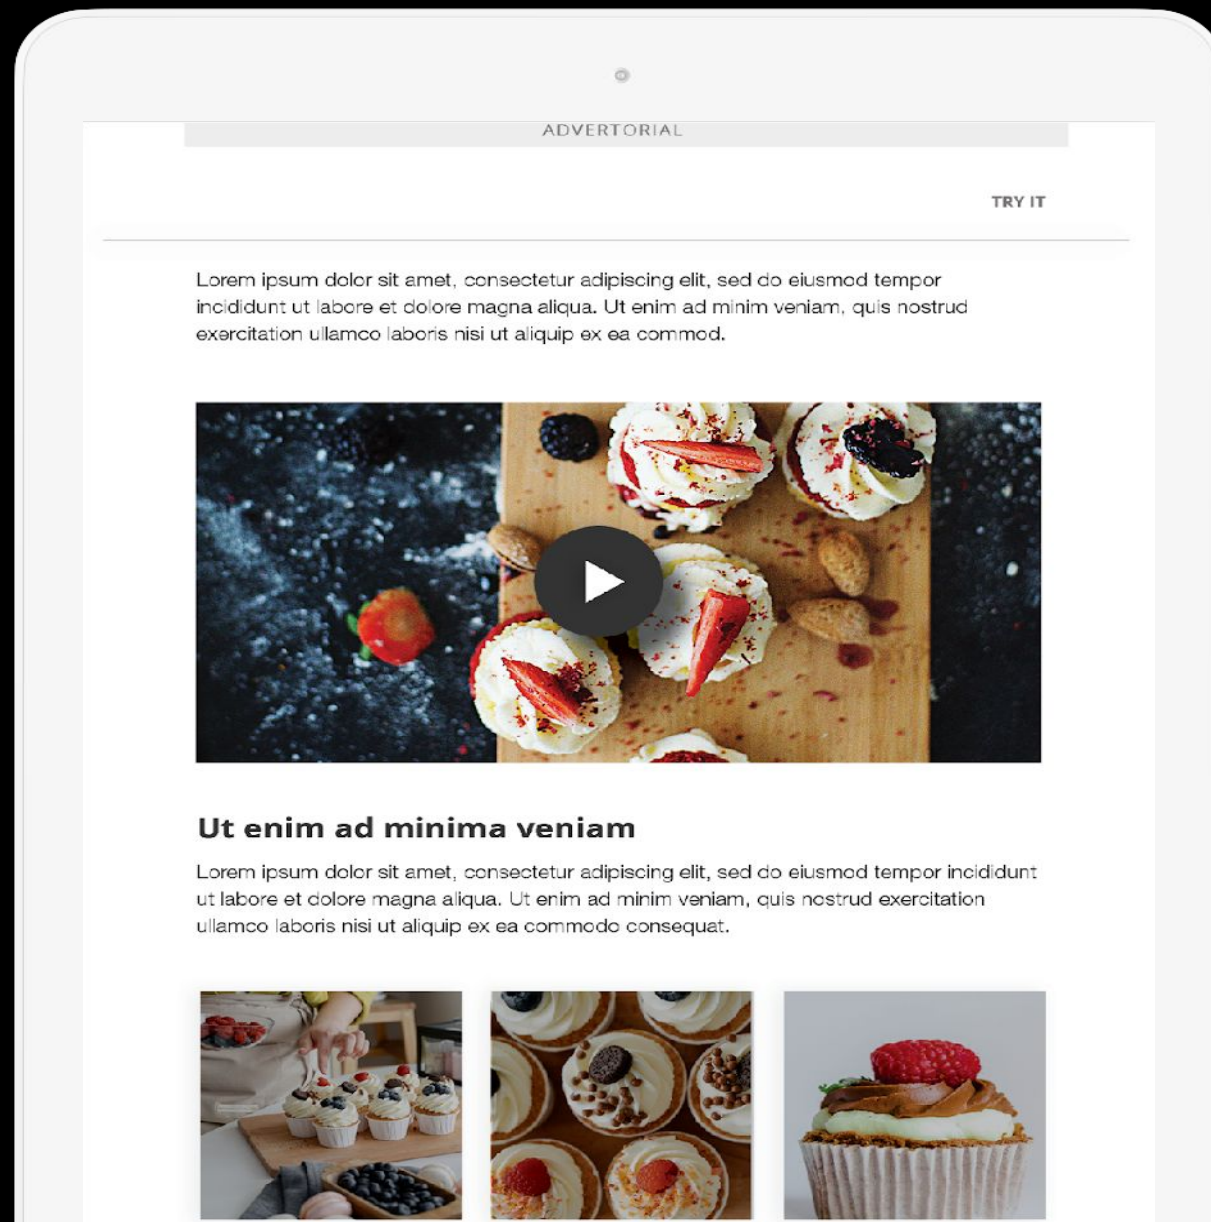

Bad: Will you be satisfied?

Good: Comfort and interior that will guarantee your satisfaction.

INNOVATE

Videos, photo galleries, quizzes, and other unique content types have the potential to unlock new audiences for your product or services. Experiment with new formats when possible, but make sure to keep the rules we've mentioned here in mind!

CTA DO'S & DON'TS

BEST PRACTICES

Location

Copy

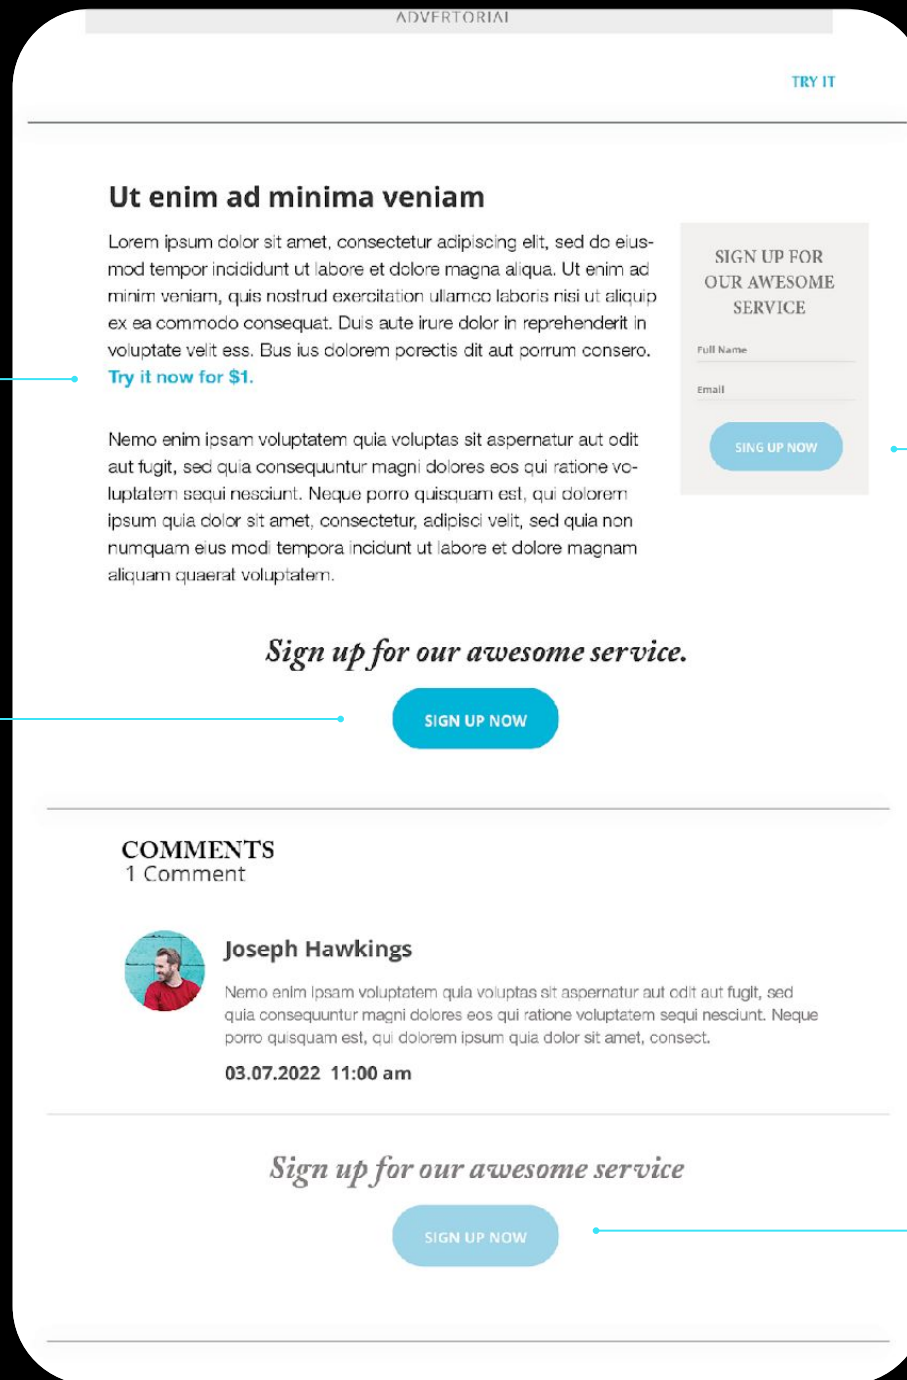

Format=

LOCATION

Add a less aggressive CTA about 1/3 of the way down your page. Hyperlinked text in a separate row can work well for this.

Place the CTA immediately below the article body.

Don't place your primary CTA in the right rail on desktop. Users will be engaging with the article, and will most likely miss it.

Don't place your CTA below share buttons and/or comments. The user will miss it.

CTA DO'S AND DON'TS

COPY

Tell the user what to expect post-click. Use precise action-oriented language like “buy” or “sign up”, Rather than more generic language like “click here”

Don't emphasize multiple actions. Your CTA should focus only on your primary goal.

Use end of article CTA's rather than multiple CTA's. The user who will click on the end of article CTA will probably make a valuable conversion, as they read the full article and knows what they will get in return.

CTA DO'S AND DON'TS

FORMAT

Find creative ways to gamify your action if possible, like using a quiz format. It will make the user more likely to follow through with the action.

Don't make the CTA look like a banner. Users have blindness and will ignore it. Even separating your CTA from the article with a block of background color will have this effect.

Don't rely on a floating CTA in the footer. Users will most likely miss that as well.

POP SMART

Users will instinctively close pop-up windows without reading them. If you need to rely on a pop-up, then make sure it's triggered only once a reader has truly engaged with your page.
